

Steady Handoff 10: Clinician Sign-Off Worksheet

Non-BLS modules, skills, programs, and listening content. Reviewers: Rebecca Altschuler, PhD (AZ PSY-005804) and John Allen, PhD (AZ PSY-002055). Date: September 24, 2026.

How to use this worksheet

- Either sign the approve-all box on this page, or mark verdicts row by row. Approve-all still lets you mark exceptions on individual rows.
- Each row names where to read the item: 'Spec' is 10-non-bls-modules.md, 'Content' is 10-content-pack.md.
- Verdicts: Approve ships as written. Approve with changes ships after the changes you note are made and shown to you. Needs change does not ship.
- Unsigned rows follow the 'Default if unsigned' column. For almost every row that means the item does not ship. Nothing new becomes visible to members without an approved row.
- Row numbers match the catalog ids in the app (for example, A02 is CV10_A02), so your verdicts can be entered exactly as marked.
- Nothing in this worksheet changes existing safety rules, crisis handling, screening thresholds, or the BLS configuration.

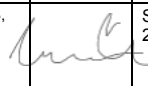

What is being asked of reviewers

Steady is adding self-guided content that does not use bilateral stimulation: 18 short skills drawn from the existing technique library, a behavioral activation program, a sleep program, eight lessons, recorded audio, and, in a later phase, a complex-trauma skills program and member thought records. A third phase defines containers for clinician-assigned protocols (written exposure, CPT worksheets, imagery rehearsal) that will hold licensed content supplied by a clinical partner. Steady writes no protocol content for those.

One item is already fixed and needs confirmation: a companion suggestion (the butterfly hug) instructed alternating self-tapping, which is a form of bilateral stimulation. It has been replaced with a static self-hold (row A01).

Reviewers and approve all

Reference STEADY-CLINREV-2026-09-24-10. Two independent reviewers for redundancy, as with the 2026-07-22 ratification. The approve-all box covers Lanes A to D (rows CV10_A01 to CV10_D05, 32 rows). Lane E is parked pending a provider partner and Lane F belongs to the founder, so neither is included.

Lane A. Trauma-informed clinical content

Reviewer: Licensed psychologist with trauma experience

Row	Item	Decision asked	Read	Default if unsigned	R. Altschuler	J. Allen	Notes / initials
A01	P0: Butterfly hug removal	The KB entry somatic-butterfly-hug tells the companion to offer slow alternating taps: self-administered BLS, available to highly activated members. We replaced it with a static self-hold (steady pressure, no tapping, no alternation) and removed the original. Confirm the rewrite, or require removal of the self-hold too. This changes the therapy-KB configuration you ratified on 2026-07-22 (beta-clinrev-2026-07), so under your condition 3 it needs renewed review; your verdict here is that review for this entry.	Spec §1	Rewrite ships now (it only restricts). Original stays removed.	☐ Approve ☐ Approve with changes ☐ Needs change	☐ Approve ☐ Approve with changes ☐ Needs change
A02	Skills library selection and gating	18 KB techniques become member-facing skills with the tiers and activation ceilings listed. Confirm the selection and each tier and ceiling. A03	Skill wording (S01 to S18)	Member-facing titles, intros, when-to-use, and steps for all 18 skills.	Content §1	Does not ship	☐ Approve ☐ Approve with changes ☐ Needs change	☐ Approve ☐ Approve with changes ☐ Needs change
A04	Cold water skill stays out of member library	dbt-temperature (cold water) is excluded from the member library because temperature-shock skills can act as a pain substitute where self-harm history is common. Confirm, and say whether the companion should keep offering it at all.
